Conversation Starters

FamilyLife would like to thank you for the trust you give us regarding your faith, marriage, and family.

Few things in life are more important than deepening our relationships with others.

In this download you will find “Conversation Starters” you can use as tools to deepen relationships with those you love. We hope that you take some time while you’re sitting around the kitchen table or before you turn in for the night to engage with each other, get to know each other, and build relationships.

If you find interesting and clever ways to use these cards, please let us know. We would love to include your thoughts and experiences into this simple tool for conversation.

As always, our prayers are with you and your family,
